OUR FAIR.

On October 15, 16 and 17 Appomattox will welcome the public to the best exhibit of her resources. The people of the town are making every preparation for a gala week, and the Fair Association officers have put forth their best efforts to put on the best show Appomattox ever had. All things are ready for the big Fair and a large attendance is expected.

The association is expecting all of Appomattox to attend the Fair. It will be instructive and entertaining. Come.

OUR SOLDIERS' GRAVES

The whole country is desirous of having due honor paid to the remains of our soldiers and sailors who died in service abroad. Many have expressed the hope that the bodies of these heroes would be brought back for interment in American soil. Gen. Pershing opposes this idea, and has been conferring with artists with a view to creating an beautifying permanent cemeteries in France, similar to the national cemeteries in the United States. In these the general favors the erection of durable monuments to the heroic dead. About 75,000 American soldiers have been buried in the foreign lands from which they drove the Huns, and each grave now bears a white cross inscribed with the soldier's name.

Whether these brave men's remains are removed to the United States or not, their resting places should be permanently marked, and the areas in which they lie should have the nation's loving care. It is gratifying to general patriotic sentiment that a national committee, with Col. William Boyd Thompson as chairman, is urging and has secured the interest of Senator Wadsworth of New York and Congressman Kahn of California in a bill providing for erecting appropriate headstones over the graves of American soldiers and sailors in France.—Leslie's

County Club Girls Exhibit.

Appomattox club work is represented in the Home Demonstration Department of the State Fair this year. Girls and boys all over the State engaged in club work are exhibiting—contesting for the State prizes. Appomattox could not be left behind.

A complete Second Year Canning Club exhibit was entered by Addie Childers of Vera, the exhibit consisting of 12 containers in glass—all fancy packs—of different varieties of canned vegetables and fruits, pickles, preserves, marmalades, etc.; 2 varieties dried fruits; 3 varieties vegetables canned in tin; uniform dress; an illustrated history of her year's work and a complete record of work done—showing preparation, yield, and net profits of her tenth-acre plot.

Sewing exhibits were sent from the following clubs: Spout Spring, Oakville, Pamplin, Bent Orock, and Vera-Liberty Chapel. The exhibitors are: Frances Rowlin, Estelle Dickerson, Helen Dickerson, Kathleen Hamilton, Gracie Blanks, Mary Coleman, Relin Southall and Addie Childers. Included in these exhibits were Canning Club uniforms, sewing bags, iron holders, hand-made garments, cooking caps and aprons and machine-made dresses.

These exhibits, with others, will be at Appomattox Fair.

Teaching Agriculture

There has been some reaction and considerable disappointment resulting from efforts to teach agriculture in the public grammar schools, especially when attempts have been made to teach agriculture, say to the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. In fact, there are those who state that agriculture cannot be taught in these grades.

If this were true, then nothing could be taught to the pupils in these grades. It is simply an absurdity. Agriculture can be taught to any pupil to whom anything else can be taught. If a teacher can teach a pupil that five and seven marbles make twelve marbles, he can teach that same pupil that if an apple twig grows five inches one year and seven inches the next, it has grown twelve inches in the two years. The numbers are the same, the only difference being that in the one case, in addition to the arithmetic taught he has called to the attention of the pupil a lot of marbles, while in the other case he has taught an agricultural fact, namely that an apple twig grows about five to seven inches in a year.

The boy or girl of ten to twelve years of age who has lived on the farm knows considerable about agriculture; and this is especially true if the parents are educated, know the essential facts of agriculture, and farm successfully. If the essential facts underlying agricultural practices can be learned by a boy from eight to twelve years of age on the farm, these facts can also be taught in the schools, and it is simply ridiculous for anyone to contend that they cannot.

The difficulties which have been encountered in the attempts to teach agriculture to fifth and sixth grade pupil's are not due to any lack of the teachability of agriculture; agricultural facts can be taught as well as commercial or any other kind of facts, but the difficulties are in our city-made text books and our inefficient teachers.—Progressive Farmer.

Why Not a Thanksgiving Service at the Local School?

Let's observe Thanksgiving Day in all the rural community this year. We have much to be thankful for and it will do our souls good to acknowledge it.

Moreover, it will enrich the community life to get the people together on Thanksgiving Day for a "Harvest Home" celebration. In the morning, a song and prayer service might be held at the local school, together with a Thanksgiving sermon or talk, if practicable. Then why not have a picnic dinner followed by discussions of plans for community progress and development?

Of course the school building should be decorated with flowers and farm products; and especial attention should be given to musical features.

It is true that it is some time till Thanksgiving Day, but it is none too early to begin making plans for such a celebration wherever one is to be held. If we wait till the last minute, nothing will be done. Moreover, if each person waits for somebody else to move, nothing will be done. "Somebody must lead; why not you?"

His Versatility.

Many a man who boasts he can turn his hand to anything has also a genius for putting his foot in it.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

Local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be reduced in this manner the hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free.

Suicide

The body of Eugene B. Foster, the nineteen year old suicide who ended his life last Friday by casting himself into the James river, will be exposed to his widowed mother at Pamplin, Va., this afternoon by A. C. Nelson, undertaker. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning.

Instructions were given the undertaker by his F. A. Ecin, of Pocahontas, sister of the dead youth, who came to Richmond with her husband to engage in the search for him after he had disappeared from his boarding house. Ere Richmond was making a round of the drinking offices, thinking the lad might have enlisted, when Mr. Nelson brought the news of the recovery of his body from the river.

Mrs. Eakin was prostrated by the news and was taken home last night by her husband. Young Foster was attending a local business college, and is said to have been a model student. His body was so badly decomposed as to make identification impossible, but a stop watch in his pocket, with three hands, a letter from another sister in Chicago and his glasses, which were still on, convinced his sister that her brother had been found.

Foster had been missing two days when his boardmistress became alarmed. She found letters in his room to his mother and sister intimating that he would do away with himself and promptly notified Mrs. Foster.—Richmond Virginian.
